

Visit the Picasso Museum in Antibes

After Picasso's stay in 1946, he left several art objects to Antibes. Namely 23 paintings and 44 drawings. Among the most famous paintings: La Joie de vivre, Satyr, Centaur and fauna in the trident, the Gobeur sea urchins, sea urchins Woman, Still Life with Owl and the three sea urchins and Goat.

In December 27, 1966, the city of Antibes makes new tribute to Pablo Picasso and the Chateau Grimaldi (where the Museum is located) became the official Picasso museum, the first museum dedicated to the artist. Finally, in 1991, Jacqueline Picasso authorizes a new collection development Picasso. This Museum is perfect to visit while you are on tour to Antibes. The port of Antibes is also very nice to visit while you are there! For more information about the Picasso Museum, please click here.
